Rooms with a wilder side.

Unexpected nature. Expressive walls. Six starting points for an interior with a character of its own.

FLAMINGO CANOPY / IMAGINED INTERIOR

Studio Loucura explores the beauty and strangeness of the natural world through expressive wallcoverings, considered for your space.

01 / WOODLAND / OXBLOOD

Amanita After Dark

Sculptural fungi, delicate ferns and woodland flowers. Oxblood and warm ivory emerge from an espresso ground.

An intimate woodland atmosphere, rich in small discoveries.

02 / TROPICAL / CORAL

Flamingo Canopy

Pale coral birds move through layered palms. Deep jade foliage brings a lush, unhurried rhythm to the room.

A generous pattern or a continuous scenic composition, explored in relation to the room.

03 / BOTANICAL / BRONZE

Serpentine Grove

Bronze serpents wind through fern and flowering branches. A quietly unconventional take on the botanical interior.

Sinuous movement and intricate detail for an interior with a little intrigue.

04 / WETLAND / OLIVE

Ibis in the Paperbark

The familiar Australian white ibis, given a more elegant stage. Ivory plumage, paperbark and the hush of olive foliage.

Distinctly Australian. The wit is in the subject; the mood stays composed.

05 / RAINFOREST / EMERALD

Rainforest Chorus

Small green frogs rest among broad leaves and delicate flowers. An intimate world, discovered one detail at a time.

Quiet from across the room, full of character when seen up close.

06 / DREAMSCAPE / AUBERGINE

Mycelium Reverie

Imaginary mushrooms unfurl into fluid botanical rhythms. Teal, aubergine and burnt coral create an otherworldly atmosphere.

A dreamlike botanical study with expressive colour and flowing detail.
